Department: Faculty of Law

Academic recruitment field: 12/F1 (Civil procedural law)

Academic discipline: IUS/15 (Civil procedural law)

Maximum number of publications to be presented: 15

Foreign language requirement: excellent knowledge of the English language for the purposes of conducting teaching and research in that language, attested by all the documentation produced

Type of teaching and research load required:

Research load: within the field of Civil Procedure

Teaching load: aimed at all the teaching activities offered at the Faculty of Law within the scientific-disciplinary sector IUS/15: Bachelor's degree courses, Master's degrees and single-cycle Master's degrees, School of specialisation for legal professions, PhD course.

General evaluation criteria to be respected by the Commissions:

The evaluation of the qualifications and the publications must ascertain: the candidate's years of experience in the sector, intended as recognition that the candidate has a good level of quality and originality in the results achieved in the research carried out, such as to ensure that the candidate is well-known at least within his/her own country; the ability to coordinate or manage a research group; the ability to attract competitive funding at least in his/her capacity as head at the local level.

As regards teaching, the evaluation will consider: teaching experience and ability as attested by the documents produced by the candidate. Overall, the teaching experience and ability of the candidates shall be fully considered although the total weight of the indicators that measure teaching activities must not be greater than the weight assigned to those that measure the research work.

As regards research work, the evaluation of the candidates' Curriculum Vitae and publications will be carried out by the Commission according to the parameters and criteria (listed below) as per Ministerial Decree no. 76 of 7th June 2012 as integrated by the Committee for Recruitment and Career Development and according to the decision of the Council of the Faculty of Law at the meeting held on 21st June 2023:

- as regards the evaluation of the publications:

- a) the quality of research work evaluated at the international level of research on the basis of the originality, the methodological rigour, the innovative nature and the publication by publishers known at the national or international level who use transparent evaluation procedures for the quality of the publication following the peer review system;
- b) the number and type of publications presented and their distribution over time;
- c) the impact of the research work, bearing in mind the years of work in academia and the specific features of the subject sector;
- d) the consistency with the themes of the selection procedure sector or with the relevant interdisciplinary themes;

- as regards the evaluation of the qualifications:

- e) participation in and responsibility for international and national research projects for which funding has been provided on the basis of competitive selection procedures and which include peer review;
- f) the editorship of journals, editorial collections, encyclopaedias and treatises of recognised prestige;
- g) participation in editorial committees for journals, editorial collections, encyclopaedias and treatises of recognised prestige, and national and international committees for the promotion and the evaluation of research;
- h) official teaching and research posts held at prestigious universities and research institutions abroad and with a prestigious international reputation;
- i) the management of prestigious international research institutes or bodies;
- l) work at academies considered prestigious in the field;
- m) prizes and recognition awarded for work carried out;
- n) carrying out Third Mission activities.

The Examining Commission will select a set of indicators, both bibliometric and non-bibliometric, in order to be able to quantify the parameters and such as to enable an effective selection of the candidates. The indicators must be sufficient in number and varied in type in order to take account of the different ways in which the scientific value and the years of experience in the sector of each candidate can be expressed and at the same time in order to minimise distortions which the misuse of individual indicators might have. In any event the inclusion of a candidate in a list of suitable candidates or his/her exclusion from the list, shall not come about on the basis of one single indicator or through the use of numerical algorithms alone.

For candidates who have passed the Italian National Academic Qualifications Procedure (Abilitazione Scientifica Nazionale), the evaluation will include elements which demonstrate the continuity and the quality of the candidate's work for the period following the interval of time considered for the Italian Academic Qualifications Procedure, favouring candidates with a tendency towards a greater amount of research of high quality and impact. In evaluating the continuity of the candidate's work the Commission will bear in mind any period of leave for maternity and other periods of leave permitted by the laws in force and not including study leave periods.

Indicators which measure the consistency of the candidate's research with the subject sectors indicated in the selection procedure must be applied with caution in the case of candidates who work in interdisciplinary research areas.

The factors to be considered in the evaluation shall include the level of independence acquired by the candidate from the research groups where he/she to carry out research. This level of independence may be evaluated to a different extent in the different disciplines on the basis of the percentage of research published with co-authors who differ from the research groups mentioned above, or on the basis of periods of work in research centres which differ from the original research centre, invitations to work at prestigious universities or institutions as a visiting professor, the coordination of research projects, participation in committees for major journals, the editorship of editorial collections and similar.

Another important factor for the position of professor is the ability demonstrated by the candidate to act as a leader in research work, to devise new lines of enquiry, to supervise co-workers, students, research fellows etc., and to lead funded projects or research groups. The evaluation of such an ability, whether potential or attested, shall not be limited to a simple application of numeric indicators such as the number of projects presented, in the candidate's capacity as principal investigator or the number of master's dissertations and doctoral theses supervised, but shall be based on a careful analysis of the Curriculum Vitae of the candidates. A spirit of initiative, the ability to find funding for his/her own research, to find new fields of enquiry, to broaden the network of international collaboration and to promote new teaching activities constitute merit factors which will be given suitable weight.

Candidates who have the same number of points for their work will also be given suitable recognition for any organisational work carried out on behalf of the institution employing the candidate, especially if onerous in terms of time and commitment.

Article 3

Attachments to the application and how to include qualifications and publications

As part of the online application procedure candidates are required to attach documents to the application form in the format specified.

Italian and EU citizens must attach the following files to their application:

1. Curriculum Vitae in English (in Word and PDF format);
2. publications in PDF format that the candidate deems useful for the purposes of the selection procedure.

Regarding publications accepted, but not yet published, it is required to attach documentation proving acceptance. For publications longer than 30 pages and/or for which it is impossible to attach the file, candidates may instead attach a file containing the frontispiece and index but must send a hard copy of the publication which must arrive within 10 days of the submission of the application at the Personnel Office for Professors and Researchers, University of Trento, in Via Verdi 6, 38122 Trento, Italy by hand, by post with advice of receipt

3. documents or a personal declaration in lieu of affidavit for the documents attesting that the candidate holds further qualifications that he or she deems relevant for the purposes of the selection procedure;
4. proof of identity (ID card).

For non-EU citizens legally resident in Italy the provisions of Article 3 of Presidential Decree no. 445/2000 apply, which allow the candidate to make the said declarations only when they involve states, facts and personal qualities which can be certified or attested by Italian institutions. Therefore, in the case of non-EU citizens, except for the above case, any qualifications to be evaluated by the Commission must be attested by suitable documentation as per Article 1 of this selection procedure.

For non-EU citizens, documents and publications are to be submitted following the online procedure and may be verified by the person in charge of the evaluation procedure who may request a hard copy.

In application of Article 33 of Presidential Decree no. 445 of 28th November 2000, for any documents in a foreign language other than English, French, German or Spanish, a translation into Italian must be attached which is certified as being identical to the foreign text by the appropriate Embassy or Consulate or by an official translator.

Candidates from non-EU countries must therefore attach the following files to their application:

1. Curriculum Vitae in English (in Word and PDF format);
2. publications in PDF format that the candidate deems useful for the purposes of the selection procedure. Regarding publications accepted, but not yet published, it is required to attach documentation proving acceptance. For publications longer than 30 pages and/or for which it is impossible to attach the file, candidates may instead attach a file containing the frontispiece and index but must send a hard copy of the publication which must arrive within 10 days of the submission of the application at the Personnel Office for Professors and Researchers, University of Trento, in Via Verdi 6, 38122 Trento, Italy by hand, by post with advice of receipt or by courier: if the hard copy of the publication arrives after the deadline indicated above the publication will not be considered in the evaluation.
3. documents attesting that the candidate holds further qualifications that he or she deems relevant for the purposes of the selection procedure;
4. proof of identity (ID card).

The Commission takes into consideration only those publications or works accepted for publication according to the regulations in force as well as papers forming part of miscellaneous works and articles in journals in printed form or digital format. The publications accepted, but not yet published, will be evaluated by the commission only if accompanied by documentation proving acceptance. Publications, and in particular scientific articles (print extracts), are considered valid for the purposes of the selection procedure on condition that they contain information about the author, the title of the work, the place of publication and, if applicable, the number of the journal, encyclopaedia or treatise from which they are taken.

Publications made by means other than printing (in electronic format) are subject to being evaluated without the need to observe the formalities that apply to works in hard copy.

Publications can be included in the original language.

Any publications or documents attesting the candidate's qualifications that arrive at this university after the deadline for the application will be excluded from this selection procedure, except for the case specified in this article for publications with a number of pages greater than 30 and/or for which it is not possible to attach the file.

Article 4

Composition of the Examining Commissions

For the purposes of the position in this selection procedure, the Rector nominates an examining Commission made up of three members who are full professors or equivalent and who work in the group of academic recruitment fields, which includes the academic recruitment field in this selection procedure. Of these, two members are appointed by the university's Committee for Recruitment and Career Development and one member is appointed by the Faculty of Law.

The members of the Commission who come from Italian universities are chosen from professors belonging to the group of academic recruitment fields which includes the academic recruitment field in this selection procedure.

At least two members of the Commission must come from another Italian or a foreign university. In the event of the appointment of a member coming from a foreign university, the university's Committee for Recruitment and Career Development attests that the professor's foreign job title corresponds to that of full professor within the Italian university system, according to the table of equivalent academic positions defined by the Ministry as per Article 18 (1) (b) of Law no. 240/2010.

The Commission appoints a President and a secretary to write the minutes from among its members.

The Commission carries out its work with all members present and all decisions must be taken by the majority.

The Commission can seek external evaluations on the candidate's research record, according to international standards of peer review.

The Commission must finish its work within three months of the Rector's decree nominating the Commission. The Rector can extend the deadline for the Commission's work once only and for no longer than two months in the event of sound reasons given by the President of the Commission. If the deadline passes without the Commission finishing its work and handing over the proceedings, then the Rector will dissolve the Commission and nominate a new one to replace it.

Professors who have received a negative evaluation as per Article 6 (7) and (8) of Law no 240/2010 may not be a member of the Commission.

- a) publications;
- b) curriculum vitae;
- c) teaching work.

The Commission, in relation to the candidates that it considers comparatively better in relation to the criteria defined in the announcement, proceeds to ascertain the adequacy of the level of knowledge of the English language in relation to the conduct of teaching and research activities in that language, on the basis of the documentation produced. Candidates for whom it is not possible to ascertain from the documentation presented the knowledge of English at the required level will be asked to take a test to ascertain the knowledge of the English language in a public session, with convocation with a notice of 15 days by means of a notice published on the University portal:

<https://www.unitn.it/valutazioni-comparative>

The test can also be carried out by video link.

The Commission will shortlist no more than three candidates who are considered the best in relation to the criteria defined in the selection procedure.

Article 6

Verification of the proceedings and offer of the position

The proceedings of the selection procedure, consisting of the minutes of the meetings, which include the individual and joint evaluations by the members, are approved by Rector's Decree and published on the website of the university at <https://www.unitn.it/valutazioni-comparative>

The period of time in which it is possible to contest the proceedings begins with the date of publication.

Should the Rector verify that the procedure has not been carried out correctly, he or she will send the proceedings back to the Commission, instructing them to make changes by a given deadline.

For the purposes of selecting a candidate for the position, candidates shortlisted by the Commission are invited to give a seminar at the relevant Department or Centre on the research they have carried out and on future prospects for development. The seminar may be held by internet video link.

Within 60 days of the approval of the proceedings given by Rector's decree, the Council of the relevant Department, on the basis of the evaluations made by the Commission regarding the candidates' teaching and research work and on the basis of the seminars held and taking into account consistency with the required teaching and research work, proposes to offer the position to one of the candidates or, in the case of more than one position, to a number of candidates up to the number of positions available, from the list of candidates shortlisted by the Commission, or not to offer the position(s) to any of the shortlisted candidates; this decision is approved when the absolute majority of full professors vote in favour.

Article 7
